

XM Satellite Radio traffic and weather channels are very important to me, providing a quality of service not otherwise available. I believe in the principle of fair competition. If the NAB's clients fear XM, then it must be because they know their clients' services are inferior to XM. Why should XM be punished for providing a superior service?

I respectfully urge you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160.